Celebrate starting kindy

Each step in your child's learning journey can feel like a big change at first, but every new stage brings new experiences and opportunities to grow in confidence. These milestones are worth celebrating!

Simple ways to mark the move from home to kindy can make your child feel positive and excited about what's ahead. Try starting a countdown to their first day, taking photos during their first week, or marking the milestone with a special family get together.

Boost your child's wellbeing

Starting kindy can bring a mix of feelings for children and families. Your child might feel nervous, excited, or unsure about what's ahead.

Simple steps can help support your child's wellbeing during this time:

 Talk about how they are feeling

 Encourage them to ask for help

 Make time for rest before kindy starts

 Keep sleep routines as consistent as possible in the first few weeks.
